

Technical Specification: Government Consultancy

e-Secure Technologies provides practical assistance in supporting government agencies in identification projects and has a proven track record of success gained on a range of government projects.

e-Secure Technologies is specialized in supporting government agencies in identification projects. The primary focus is on national ID - Card, e-Passport and Border Control projects with specific focus on:

- System Analysis
- Planning of a National Identity Scheme
- Designing of Tenders
- Tender Evaluation.
- Project Management
- International Sales Support
- Preparation of Bids

The development and implementation of such solutions has been the focus e-Secure Technologies business since the company was founded. Over years of corporate experience to our credit, e-Secure Technologies have consistently demonstrated insight and creativity in successfully addressing the technical and institutional factors that drive the implementation of new technology within government agencies

Based on this experience, e-Secure Technology is well-placed to supply expert consultancy support. We follow a well-defined methodology and tested approach.

- e-Secure Technology is an independent consultancy specializing in security software solutions.
- It has a reputation for excellence within a client base that comprises Government and Commercial customers and is retained as a specialist adviser by many well-known public and private sector organizations around the globe.
- Comprising a team of specialist trainers and consultants, e-Secure Technologies has the capability to address the complete range of identification issues.